Singapore Banking Sector – OVERWEIGHT (Maintained)

Source: MAS, PSR

Singapore's January domestic loan growth flat at 3.16% YoY (Dec: 3.04% YoY)

Loans growth held up by business loan growth (4.8% YoY).

- Growth attributable to Building & Construction (13.8% YoY, the fastest since May 2016).
- These are drawdowns of loans from existing projects in the pipeline.

Consumer loan growth weakened to 0.82% YoY due to mortgage weaknesses.

- Mortgage growth decelerated to 1.6% YoY, the slowest in seventeen years.

Due to worsening macro-economic conditions, we expect loan growth for the banks to slow to 4-6% for FY2019e as compared to 7-11% in FY2018.

Singapore Banking Sector – OVERWEIGHT (Maintained)

Singapore's Deposits Growth (% YoY)

Source: CEIC, PSR

Singapore's January domestic deposits grew 4.8% YoY, the fastest in 1.5 years

CASA contracted 1.1% YoY

Fixed deposit expanded 15.1% YoY, highest in 11 years

- In a rising interest rate environment, the banking industry has been aggressively plumping up their fixed deposits.
- In comparison, FY2018's monthly average growth is 1.6% YoY.

As the financial sector bulks up in pricier fixed deposits, the corresponding rise in cost of funds makes it a constant challenge for the banks manage costs well enough to achieve NIM expansion.

Singapore Banking Sector – OVERWEIGHT (Maintained)

SIBOR, SOR and Bank Savings Deposit Rate (%)

Source: CEIC, Bloomberg PSR

February's 3-month SIBOR reached 1.953%, surpassing last month's 11 year-high;

3-month SOR expanded 10bps MoM to 2.039%;

Savings rate remained unchanged at 0.16%.

Due to time lag in loan repricing, we will see NIM expansion even if there is a pause in interest rate hikes.

However, given the recent dovish tone set by the US Federal Reserve, we do not expect interest rates to rise as fast as it did in 2018.

We reduced our FY19e NIM estimates for the three banks by c.3%.

Singapore Banking Sector – OVERWEIGHT (Maintained)

Investment Actions

Maintain Singapore Banking Sector at overweight.

Higher NIM, low provisions and better cost management should provide upsides to ROE improvements.

The banking sector gives an attractive dividend yield support of c.5%.

All three banks' robust CET-1 ratios should sustain current pay-out ratios.

Key risks include:

- (i) lower pass-through of interest rates;
- (ii) (ii) lesser U.S. Federal Reserve rate hikes;
- (iii) (iii) market volatility continues to pressure Treasury Market revenues downwards;
- (iv) (iv) weaker sentiments due to trade tensions.

Source: Company, PSR

Positives

Healthcare Services (e.g. GP clinics) underpinned revenue growth.

- New corporate clients and a new Air Borders Screening contract with MOH lent support in the 6.0% YoY growth.

Well executed cost management. Staff costs managed to contract 0.6% YoY despite the expansion in facilities.

- Staff costs 50.3% of revenue (FY17: 51.8%)
- We expect it to remain above 50% of the Group's revenue in the coming quarters until patient volume picks up in Raffles Hospital Extension, MCH and the two new hospitals in China.

Downgrade to Neutral at lower TP of S$1.09 (prev TP: S$1.16)

Negative

Continued pressure from medical tourism.

- Growth of foreign patient load have stagnated.
- Stronger SGD and rising cost of living in Singapore made regional rivals more attractive.
- However, the recent medical fee guidelines should provide more clarity to foreign patients regarding the costs of private healthcare in Singapore.

Outlook:

China – Chongqing and Shanghai hospitals

- The Chongqing hospital conducted its soft launch in January 2019.
- Shanghai hospital to open in 4Q19.
- We initially modelled in gestation costs into our FY18 EBITDA. However, due to the delayed recognition of gestation costs for the two hospitals in China, we lower our EBITDA estimates for FY19-20e by c.3%.
- EBITDA loss of S$8-10mn and S$4-5mn in the 1st and 2nd year respectively before the hospitals breaks even in the third year of operation.

Downgrade to Neutral at lower TP of S$1.09 (prev TP: S$1.16)

Investment action:

Downgrade to Neutral with lower TP of S$1.09 (previous TP S$1.16)

We trim our FY19-20e EBITDA estimates by c.3-5% to account for gestation costs in the two hospitals in China.

Potential re-rating catalysts: (i) Stronger demand from the MOH partnership; (ii) Better than expected performance in China hospitals.

Positives

Data backhaul a new material opportunity. This is to connect the base stations of wireless operators. This is meaningful when 5G is rolled out.

Negatives

- Cable TV subs and ARPU still falling. Subscribers fell by 7,000 in 4Q18, this is more than triple the 2,000 in the prior quarter. ARPU for cable TV dropped for the 10th consecutive quarter to NT$494/month (or 3.3% YoY drop).
- Capex is still elevated.

Maintain ACCUMULATE: Operationally still challenging due to weakness in cable TV revenue. Taiwanese telecommunication peers are valued at a dividend yield of around 5% and EV/EBITDA of 11x. APTT trading at 9% yield.
